

THURSDAY, NOV. 13, 1913.

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the circulation of either contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently of DOUBLE their value.

An Elegant Description.

Our morning contemporary has such a "fine and charmingly" written article on the subject of the races, that we modestly venture to reprint a portion of it in our columns. Teeming with elegant diction, and soaring to the heights of Parnassus, the writer bursts forth into a flood of song, and carols gushingly an angelic melody, before which all other psalms pale, and the similes of the ancient poets are as the hue of a turnip compared with the glory of sweet orange flowers.

 Aurora announced her coming through the magic tints of a thousand colorings,  The blue and purple earth giants that lift their majestic summits to the ethereal heavens, from the scowling ocean at Santa Monica to the smiling valley of San Bernardino, penciled the vast expanse of clear sky with distant lines so poetical and dreamy, no Rascals could tire or murmur of. The morning was vocal with the music of the lark and the linnet, while ever and anon a chanticleer, the rook cock of the walk, sounded his clarion horn. The great orb performed its unmistakable functions, and lighted up and warmed the spheres, and gave zest to its living creatures. At evening, did you not hear the birds calling to repose, the cooing of the doves, the plaintive song of the plover, the signaling shriek of the quail, and the owl adding his solemn notes to the vespers of the feathered chorus?

 the value of every inch of ground is understood, the noble beast vaulting through space with a speed superior to that of the locomotive.

 what more soul-stirring picture is there than to see the very finest specimens of brute electricity, the elect of their "race," seemingly almost instinct with soul, straining every instinct, thronging with tremendous throes of absolute atomization, the goal? What more inspiring sound can there be than the thick thunder of the trampling hoofs coming up the splendid reach of the home stretch,  every muscle and nerve alive with the expectancy, eager as the master for the victory? The whirling wheels seemingly flash into one seeming solid ring; the drivers, mad with rivalry, bend over their flying animals, and with voice and every urgency call forth the last power of the gallant brutes; the fleetest throng of the swift steeds gather toward the finish; in seconds is crowded the ecstatic excitement of a lifetime.

 What sweeter music can there be than the sob's of middle-melody in the throat of the splendid racer, as he darts by with beating breath and swelling nostrils, his eye flashing with quick intelligence and bent on victory? Such scenes and sights are worth years of the tame and ordinary vegetating on which we call life.

Before such God-like language, all minor lights must bow their heads. Although it shrinks like a timid hare in its form, or the gopher in its hole, from the bare thought of rivaling such gorgeous delineations and soul stirring pen pictures as the morning constellations offer, yet the HERALD with the assistance of all the literary men in Los Angeles, humbly submits its feeble effort at word painting, stirred and stimulated by the brilliant productions of the maternal luminary:

THE JOYOUS COURSE—THE FLEET AND RUSHING QUADRUPEDS—GORGEOUS EQUINE, MASCULINE AND FEMININE DISPLAY—A PARADISICAL DAY—HEAVENLY WEATHER, ETC., ETC.

The throats of hundreds of roosters penned up for slaughter in the hotel coops and restaurant yards, heralded the advent of the son of Eos. The gentle zephyrs fooled round the streets rejoicing in the thought that the tyrant Eolus was confined in his cave, and was otherwise hunkdory. The child of Helios and Clymene had long since paid the penalties of his rashness, although there were several lively looking photons on the streets. At the bright bars, the aurum potabile and the friendly cauda galli were freely dispensed, and nature grinned her most dulcet smile, as the primal maternal aureate sunbeams bled the chimney pots of Temple's building.

THE EXCITING STRUGGLE.

The "sweet music of the sob's of middle-melody in the throat of the racers," commenced about 7 past one, and the awful struggle was gallantly won by the deep-chested, Pilot Chief. "His eye flashed with quick intelligence, and was bent (in two) on victory."

The time of the noted Dexter was almost equalled, and the flood of gay and happy child-like heart lost piles of coin on the issue.

THE RINK.

The dulcet and sweet strains of maddly melodious, and mirthfully murmuring music, moved melancholy to a smile, and banished the frown from the brow of an old squaw opposite, doing forty-eight hours in jail for drunkenness. The stately form of a kitchen stove, in the centre of the rink, had a grand effect with a beautiful back ground of pears, photographs and sewing machines. As the inspiring dot and go one movements of the dreamy waltz floated heavenwards, and were lost in the vaulted arches of the canvass roof, and one gazed on the paraffine oil exhibited from San Fernando, great glad sob's welled up from many an unfinishing bosom whose lachrymose propensities had ceased with the termination of his infantile lustre. No such a magnificent scene has ever been presented to the children of Southern California; never has so much ambrosial glory flooded the perennial paradise we call our home. Verily, we are sophomores again.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Surveyor Hardenberg's defense, when tested by the Department records, is found to be merely special pleading, which will undoubtedly react to his disadvantage. He justifies his illegal charges of fees by saying he followed precedents which had been approved by the Department. The facts are that Commissioner Drummond, as soon as he read the Bulletin article, early in 1871, exposing the fee practices of Hardenberg's office, sent him that article and demanded an explanation, at the same time explicitly informing him that such practices should not be allowed to continue. Hardenberg after some days made an evasive reply, stating that persons who complained were then satisfied, and that there had been misapprehensions. The Commissioner thereupon wrote him again that his reply was by no means satisfactory, and again demanded an explanation and reform. Hardenberg failing to reply to this letter has ever since continued to exact the same illegal fees. The explanation that he accounted for rents collected by him is not sufficient. For he did not turn the money over to the United States Treasury, but applied it to the payment of unauthorized purchased carpets, etc. A much more serious matter however is Hardenberg's utter failure to meet the charge that he put deputies to work in the field in advance of the availability of appropriations for San Diego. This he attempts to justify by citing to some of the old circulars issued by Drummond's predecessors prior to the passage of the law covering an unexcused balance in the Treasury. The fact is, he was informed by a circular from the General Land Office in 1871, that although he might make and forward the contract for its approval, and otherwise prepare for work in advance of the beginning of the year, no work to be paid for out of the prospective appropriations could be done until appropriations were actually available.

The Consul General of the United States, at Havana, telegraphed to Secretary Fish that the Havana papers publish a report of the execution of the captain and crew of the Virginus, as telegraphed to the Press from Havana. They say on receiving the dispatch the Secretary proceeded immediately to the Executive Mansion and showed the telegram to the President, and soon thereafter telegraphed to the Consul General to verify the statement. The excitement against the Cuban authorities, which had somewhat lessened, has been revived by to-day's startling announcements. The exciting news has formed a subject of earnest comment in official and diplomatic circles.

Ex-Senator Cole arrived here to look after the Mission, San Diego, and San Antonio Spanish ranch cases, long pending in the Department, on applications for patents. Also to argue the Tennessee cotton case in the Supreme Court.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—The Chicago Tribune has a Washington special which says the Executive Mansion among capitalists and politicians, is the Texas and Pacific Construction Company, and adds: "This Company obtained most of its political stool pigeon rights under the nose of the Credit Mobilier investigation, and while the character of some Congressmen were being demolished, others, with perfect indifference, were trying to be let in on a new Credit Mobilier. A suit was about to be commenced this week, by the firm of Christy, Paine & Co., of Washington, against the Construction Company, on behalf of certain obligations that had been promised but not fulfilled. Yesterday the attorney was cited by John McNamee, the President, to hold a personal conference with Col. Tom Scott, for the purpose of postponing the suit. Gen. Bristow, lately Solicitor General of the United States, became Col. Scott's counsel, and was afterward made First President of the Construction Company, with a salary of $12,000 a year, and had also been despoiled from the list of defendants. It appears Bristow left the concern when he found it might be expected of him to do the dirty work with the Texas Legislature and State authorities. He had invested his salary in schemes and went out with no high opinion of the practice of law for modern railroad construction. Mr. Scott, although he is debarred by Act of Congress with officers of railroads from being a member of the Construction Company, yet is said to have taken Scott in the name of members of his family, in order to drive out General Rosecrans and others who had been pioneers in the road. Pools were put to the figure of $500,000, and Rosecrans was unable to make the combination to that amount. The officers of the Pennsylvania Central were admitted and among the stockholders were mentioned Mathew Baerd of Philadelphia, Henry S. McComb, Shoemaker of Adams Express Company, Walters of Baltimore, and General Dodge, making Credit Mobilier witness, while Henry Clews and J. L. Lockwood of New York, were chief subscribers in New York. After the organization was completed, a correspondent alleges that large shareholders began the policy of leaving the smaller ones, by making assessments up to 80 per cent. of the capital stock instead of 50, as had been promised. It is alleged that Scott waited too long before going to Europe to negotiate the loan in which the Construction Company were to be paid, and when he returned he found the Company in such trouble that it was useless to attempt to keep it up. The proposition to make T. S. Bond Vice-President of the Company excited, it is said, the apprehension of many stockholders that it will result in their extinction.

Judge Bradley of the United States Supreme Court, whose district includes Texas, is the Jurist selected to make application for Bond's appointment.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Failures in the tea trade, yesterday, are attributed rather to a competition which is growing up in the West than to the panic. The great Western marts, it is said, are receiving their teas mainly by way of San Francisco, and many smaller firms here have been and are owing to this method of distribution. The tea trade is mentioned as the cause of one of the heaviest importing firms advertising two of the vessels of the fleet for sale at the Cabinet meeting yesterday.

A Washington correspondent makes President Grant say that he had read of the capture of 80 Cuban insurgents and of their having been shot. He was prepared to hear of its confirmation after what had already occurred in Cuba. He was satisfied that the Spanish Government did not and would not approve of such butchery. It was a matter which an enlightened nation could not overlook. If, indeed, this method of warfare was necessary to suppress the Spanish revolution, as an individual he would not wish such a government prosperity. If the Spanish people, in their effort to establish a republican form of government, could not control their authorities in Cuba, then, in the interest of humanity, he thought it time to interfere, not to encourage the struggling Cubans nor embarrass the Spanish republic in any way, but wholly in the interest of civilization and humanity.

PENNSYLVANIA.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 12.—Orders have been received at the Navy Yard here to fit out the monitor Manhattan for sea by Friday next. A large force of men have been employed. It is understood that the monitor is to be sent to the League Island to be made ready for sea at once.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 12.—The banking house of Mellon & Sons and the Mechanics' Savings Bank, of this city, suspended to-day.

MISSOURI.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 12.—Near Belair, last night, Henry Roe shot and killed his affianced, Mollie Walton, and then blew his own brains out, on account of the refusal of the girl's parents to sanction the marriage.

FOREIGN NEWS.

HAVANA, Nov. 12.—On the 7th inst the captain and crew of the ship Virginus were executed at Santiago de Cuba; on the next day twelve more of the Cuban volunteers of the vessel were shot. Among the latter was Fanchie Alfaro.

Several passengers, men and women, on the steamer City of New York, from New York Nov. 6, which arrived yesterday, were arrested by the Spanish authorities. It is reported that they are accused of complicity with the insurgents.

A Madrid dispatch from Cartagena says that the insurgent fleet is making preparations to leave the harbor, and hope to escape the vigilance of the Government squadron.

BAYONNE, Nov. 12.—The great battle between the Carlists and the Republicans is reported as resulting in a victory for the Carlists. The Republican loss is 1,300 men.

THE telegraphic report for the HERALD last night (the elements being propitious), was taken by Portland, Oregon; Marysville, Cal.; Sacramento, Cal., and Los Angeles, all at the same time. The circuit worked splendidly and over the long line from San Diego, Cal., to Portland, Oregon, writing from either end came with great clearness.

The Theatre.

Hamlet was re-produced last evening, the eminent young actor, S. W. Piercy, appearing to even greater advantage than before. Many old players-gone stated openly their opinion that his conception equaled that of the great Booth. Piercy's Hamlet was excellent as Ophelia; and Madame Duret's representation of the Queen was a repetition of her former fine acting in the same part. The soliloquy was superb, and the scene between Hamlet and Ophelia never better acted. Messrs. Fenton, Lipsis and Barrows were all good as the King, Polonius and Laertes, and the public paid the company the tribute of a full house.

Mutual Aid Association.

The members of the Southern California Mutual Relief Association held a meeting yesterday, at the office of Geo. C. Gibbs, and drafted a code of by-laws for the government of the association. A meeting of the Board of Directors was afterwards held, at which the following officers were elected: President, J. E. McComas of Compton; Vice President, Thomas A. Garey of Los Angeles; Secretary, L. A. Holt of Los Angeles; Treasurer, H. Gray of El Monte. The company's office will be opened to-day, at No. 41 Temple Block.

Los Angeles is very gratified at the success of Mariposa in the gentlemen's saddle race. The gentlemen who are on a visit here now from Santa Barbara, have made hosts of friends. Our town people will vie with each other in all possible courtesy to them during their visit. It is the first time that most of them have visited Los Angeles, and we hope it will not be the last. Such genial gentlemen as Messrs. Richards, Jacques, Stevens, Porter, Cody, Smith, Lowry, and others, do not come here every day.

Eight teams, laden with bullock, came in yesterday morning from Cerro Gordo.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Jury in the "Sunrise" Case—More Coolies—New Code of Ethics by a Postoffice Thief—Collision—News From Japan—Stocks, Etc.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12. True Blue has wholly recovered from the slight lameness with which he was afflicted after his arrival here, and is now in perfect condition for the great race on Saturday.

A jury was obtained in the case of Harris, mate of the Sunrise, this afternoon. The United States Circuit Court, and Mr. Morrow opened the case for the prosecution, stating to the jury what they expected to prove on the trial. He said he would show that Ernest Lejude was beaten almost continually, and that Confide was beaten every day until he killed himself, and that the same was the case with the others who jumped overboard, and that Harris was the guilty party. There are 109 counts in the indictment against him. Col. Barnes assists in the prosecution.

The California Silk Company employs at present about sixty persons, most of whom are girls.

Nathaniel Banks is the name of the soldier found dead near the Presidio. Three hundred and eight Chinamen arrived on the steamer Japan to-day.

The prices of vegetables have fallen fifty per cent. in consequence of the gardeners' strike being ended. The vegetable market is now at the junction of Sixth and Market streets.

The jury in the case of Furt, of the ship Sunrise, against Captain Clarke, gave a verdict for the plaintiff for $299, being the full amount claimed for damages.

John, the Post Office clerk who was arrested for stealing money from the office, gives as a pretended explanation of his nefarious act, that another higher in authority, gave him permission to take what money he wanted from the till, and the money at the end of the month. The explanation is not received as satisfactory or true.

The steamer Cora and Julia collided last night at Antioch. The Cora was badly stove, but not her way to this port and will be repaired.

The steamer Japan, from Hongkong and Yokohama, has arrived with dates from Yokohama to October 21.

Col. Shepard, United States Consul at Yokohama, is a passenger, and comes on a leave of absence of six months.

Embassador Kido still lies in a precarious condition. The revision of the treaties is postponed in the hopes that he may recover.

Business at Yokohama is improving. In the month of October DeLong paid his last visit to the Emperor and introduced his successor Bingham. The Empress of Japan paid a visit to Yokohama on the 18th of October.

On the 9th inst. the Emperor went in state to open the polytechnic school at Tokyo. He read a speech which was translated, and Dr. Murray, Chief of the Foreign Office, replied. Chemical and physical experiments were made in the presence of the Emperor, and a gymnastic exhibition given before him, for all of which His Majesty returned thanks. After the exhibitions all sat down to a collation. The students recently arrived at Tokyo number 3,000.

Pools selling for the $20,000 race was very brisk. The sales aggregate over $2,000. Thad. Stevens sold for $200, Daniels $110, True Blue $135, the field $30. The billiard season opened to-night for pool selling, but the great crowd could not be accommodated, and to-morrow night another place will be added.

Abe Gentry, a Virginia city gambler, was held to answer on the charge of resisting officer Clark at the time of his recent raid on the gambling houses; bail fixed at $1,000. Richard Schofield, for a similar offense, was held in the sum of $500 bail.

The Emperor's address to DeLong on the occasion of his farewell was most cordial and flattering. His Majesty also presented him with two magnificent and costly vases, as a token of his esteem. DeLong was afterwards entertained on the United States steamer Lackawana.

CALISTOCA.

Death of an Editor.
CALISTOCA, Nov. 12. Thomas McGeorge, editor of the Calistoca Tribune, died at six o'clock this morning, of softening of the brain.

Three large iron condensers, weighing three tons each, were shipped to Pine Flat to-day, for the Sonoma quicksilver mine, which will, in three weeks, turn out five hundred pounds of quicksilver per day.

Weather cold and cloudy, with indications of rain.

GILROY.

Tarred and Feathered by Vigilantes.
GILROY, Nov. 12. Jake Linson, one of the men that was escorted out of town last Saturday night, returned to this place yesterday. Last night a posse of vigilantes took him out of a saloon, and escorted him outside of the city limits. On arriving at a point about two miles from the town, Linson was given a good coat of tar and feathers, and was then placed on a rail and ridden some distance.

A patrol of men are guarding the town nightly. Joe Barbie, proprietor of a dance house, was notified to close his house. He left for Hollister on to-day's train, taking his bar and women.

SACRAMENTO.

Apophysiated.—Convicted of Vagrancy.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 12. John Harrison, an employee of the Citizens Gas Light Company, died this morning from the effects of inhaling gas while working, which caused congestion of the stomach and bowels. James Willis, whose only visible means of support was proven to be such portions of Carrie Mortimer's vile earnings as she chose to bestow on him, was to-day found guilty of vagrancy by a Police Court jury. He will be sentenced to-morrow.

FRYING.

There are two very different ways of frying; one is to have enough boiling fat to immerse the objects fried, and the other is to have just enough of it to merely cover the bottom of the frying-pan, and prevent the objects therein from burning.

Inexperienced housekeepers or cooks often make mistakes on that account. They hear or read that such an article of food is excellent fried; they try it, not knowing in which way it ought to be fried, either with little or much fat, and just as often spoil the article as cook it well.

To guard our readers from mistakes of this kind, we shall call frying with much fat (when the objects are immersed) to fry, which is the real name for it, and we shall call frying with little fat (when there is only enough of it to merely cover the bottom of the pan) to saute, which is its French and right name, there being no corresponding word to it in English. For instance, small fish are fried, but omelets are sautee; potatoes are fried, but parsnips are sautee.

How to fry.—If there is not enough fat in the pan to completely immerse the objects fried, they will certainly taste greasy. It will be the same if the fat is not heated enough. Fat heated enough when jets of smoke ooze out of it, or when, on throwing drops of water into it, a crackling noise is heard.

When the fat is hot enough, the article that is to be fried is dropped into it and stirred gently now and then with a skimmer. When done, it is taken out of the pan with the skimmer, and turned into a colander, which should rest on a dish or bowl to receive the fat that may drop.

If the article to be fried is tender and somewhat brittle, it is put in a wire basket made for that purpose, and the basket is placed in the fat. When done, the basket is raised, held over the pan for a few seconds to allow the fat to drip, and the articles fried are carefully taken out of it, and served, after having been sprinkled with salt.

If the article to be fried is not completely immersed in the fat, the part not immersed will absorb fat and, as stated above, will taste greasy; but when there is fat enough to entirely cover them, the intensity of the heat closes the pores (carbonizes them, as it were), and no fat is absorbed.

Fat (be it beef suet, lard, or oil) can be heated to a degree three times higher than water.

It is no more expensive to have plenty of fat than to have only a little; for, as soon as the articles are taken off the fat, the pan is put away to cool for a few minutes, then the fat is poured into a stone jar, gently, so as to retain what particles of solid matter may be on the bottom of the pan, and is kept for another time.

After having used the fat several times it may turn somewhat black; a few slices of bread dried in the oven may then be put into it and boiled gently for about twenty minutes; the whole is then turned into another pan, with about as much water; two or three boils are given it, it is suffered to cool and the fat is skimmed off from the surface, when all the particles that may have been in it will be found in the bottom, in the water. The every-day fat coming from skinning, trimmings, etc., is added to this, so that there is at all times fat enough in a well kept kitchen for frying purposes.

Butter should never be used to fry, but always to saute, because in sauteing the fat is absorbed, and butter has a much more delicate flavor than any other fat, except chicken, goose, and turkey fat or grease, which are preferred by many to saute omelets.—[Pierre Biot, in Harper's Bazar.]

The Napa Gang Plow.

TO THE FARMERS OF LOS Angeles County: We call your attention to the new IMPROVED GANG PLOW, patented by D. A. Munroe, of Napa, and adopted by the Grangers of this State. The points of superiority are: Lightness of draft, it being a centre draft; a castor wheel in the rear, which makes it turn in a space sufficient to accommodate its length; it has a falling pole and can, by sliding, be adjusted to the driver's weight, and removes all pressure from the horses' necks. We only ask farmers to call and examine for themselves.
